J. Ross Venable Succumbs at Little Rock
Little Rock, Oct. 7.—(AP)—One of Arkansas' most familiar political figures is dead.
He is John Ross Venable, 59, Little Rock attorney, who made a hobby of politics and ran several unsuccessful races for governor, U. S. Senate and U. S. House of Representatives.
Venable died last night in the Fort Roots Veterans Administration hospital in North Little Rock.
He served with the AEF in World War I, was awarded the Silver Star and Purple Heart and was recommended for the Distinguished Service Medal and the French Croix de Guerre.
He received a law degree from the University of Texas and after the war opened a law office in Little Rock.

States Righters to Get Aid of Boss Crump
Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 7.—(UP)—Political Leader E. H. (Boss Ed) Crump today threw the weight of his Tennessee organization behind states rights presidential and vice-presidential candidates.
The Crump statement supporting Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina and Fielding L. Wright, of Mississippi came last night, on the eve of a big States Rights rally here today.
The powerful political leader said that "we have decided to go for the States Rights ticket for president" after conferring with Mayor James Pleasant and county commission chairman E. W. Hale here.
Eliminating the other candidates from his favor, Crump said that "Wallace is completely out and Truman has sold the South down the river for Negro votes in large Northern cities."
"Dewey is no friend of the South," Crump said, "his argument against fair railroad rates for the south and his other ideas on things dear to the South are too much."
"Thurmond and Wright are the men for us to vote for," he concluded.
Crump heads a powerful political organization which had not lost an election in Tennessee for more than 20 years until its candidates were defeated for governor and U. S. Senators in the recent Democratic primary election.

Miners to Honor Leader Lewis on Birthday
Cincinnati, Oct. 7.—(AP)—The United Mine Workers' convention today unanimously adopted a resolution to make John L. Lewis' birthday Feb. 12—a national holiday in the coal industry.
The resolution climaxed a movement started several years ago within the union to make Lewis' birthday a memorial holiday.
The anthracite agreement, governing about 80,000 Pennsylvania hard coal miners, already has provision for that observance.
The miners' leader also appears due to get a boost in pay.
Several resolutions have been introduced to increase his salary from $25,000 to as much as $75,000. The resolution which seems to be favored would fix the constitutional pay of the president at $50,000.
The salaries of the vice-president and secretary-treasurer would be boosted from $18,000 to $36,000 in that resolution.
A cost of living increase—amount not made public—was given some time ago.
More nickels are used than any other American coin.

The Loves of Carmen
By SOPHIE KERR
Serialization of screenplay from a novel by Prosper Merimee

THE STORY: Don Jose, young officer in a fashionable Spanish regiment, has just come to Seville from the countryside of Navarre. On his first day in the city, a gorgeous gypsy girl, with him, then disappears. Some days later he is on duty in the square with his friend, Andres, when he sees her again. Andres greets her warmly as Carmen, but her glances are all for Jose. Shortly afterwards, Carmen gets into a street brawl with another woman and knives her. Jose, ordered to take her prisoner, lets her escape. As a result, he gets extra guard duty and is confined to barracks for 30 days. On the last night of his extra duty, he is amazed to see Carmen attend a party at the colonel's house. She turns his questions aside, hints he meet her at Lillas Pasion's. But at the tavern Jose discovers a drunk and grieving Andres also waiting for Carmen. Disturbed, he suggests they both leave. Carmen is furious.

Carmen, the gypsy, straight-backed and reckless, believed her future was locked within a pack of greasy, dog-eared gypsy cards.

Carmen accepted the prophecy of the cards the more readily because her fortune always came out exactly the same, no matter who told it. The cards for Carmen, until that night, had only been filled with love. From her first memory of the cards turning with one bent blackened old woman or another talking, it had always been the same. Her fortune had been filled with love, and her fortune had always come true.

The crane turned the piece of fish in the fat-filled frying pan. It spit grease with angry violence. The old woman looked directly at Carmen.

"I left over with—"

"It's over as far as I'm concerned."

The old crane muttered to herself. "Something's in the air tonight. I can feel it."

Carmen sat down and tapped the surface of the table.

"Tell me what the cards say."

The old crane wiped the grease from her hands on her rags. "You are so sure to come back."

Carmen lifted her head and stared at the old woman in amazement, then leaned back, stretching herself and laughing a little—a confident, lazy laugh.

"He'll come back. He loves me, the fool!"

She leaned against the cushions with her hands clasped around her face, one foot held high. The foot, weighted, happily accepting this information.

"—and a fine new dress of silk."

She smiled now as though she were actually pleased with the prophecy.

"I can't imagine a nicer way than to be killed by love."

The Doctor Says:

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Some diseases run in families or are definitely transmitted from generation to generation. These are covered by a real defect in the germ plasm of the family involved. Several diseases in this class are of a chronic nature and are of a serious character.

One of the most extraordinary of such nervous conditions is known as Friedrich's ataxia, which is a disease involving the spinal cord primarily. The defect may be carried by either parent. It is sometimes hidden, that is, the parents do not show active signs of the disease although it is always present in the family. Friedrich's ataxia starts in childhood, but sometimes is delayed until after the age of 20. In such cases, the victim may know nothing about it until after he or she has married and has had children who are afflicted.

Starts Gradually
At the beginning, the signs of this condition start gradually. An awkwardness in walking and a tendency to stumble and fall easily are characteristic. As the disease progresses, the gait becomes more irregular and clumsy. Staggering or reeling from side to side is common. In advanced stages, irregular movements and subject to the control of the will are frequently seen. The head and neck are likely to make nodding movements or spasms. Spinal curvature is common and jerky movements of the eyes are also frequent.

There is no satisfactory treatment for this malady. Its inherited nature gives the clue to its conquest: If those who are afflicted or have it in their family do not have children, the disease will die out.

There are other nervous conditions which are known to be on an inherited basis. Most of these are fortunately rather rare and for this reason do not carry names which are familiar except to nerve specialists.

QUESTION: Please tell me something about lethargy.
ANSWER: This is something called fish-skin disease. Heredity is believed to be important; the condition has been described in four generations. Treatment is principally local and is aimed at softening the skin.

DOROTHY DIX Intelligence in Love

A correspondent asks: "Why is it that in their courtship days young people never ask each other, 'Do you love me intelligently?' with your mind and with your common sense?" For intelligent love is the only love that brings any peace and happiness with it. It is the only love that is a blessing and not a curse to its recipient. And it is the only love that lasts.

To begin with, the man and woman who love intelligently have used some discretion in what they set their affections upon. They are not enamored of a beautiful face or an athletic figure that have faded behind them. Nor are they swept off their feet by the "thin veneer of the surface attraction of an agreeable personality which is apt to crack in the arid atmosphere of domesticity.

On the contrary, those who love intelligently use their brains as well as their hearts. They know why they love and what qualities in a man or woman appeal to them. They love not only youth and beauty in women and men, but the things that stay when youth and beauty have fled—intelligence, wit, charm, sweetness, sympathy and understanding.

Demand Impossible Perfection
It is the lack of intelligence in love that precipitates the domestic tragedies that bring about so much misery, all the heartburnings and jealousy are because most people love stupidly. They love senselessly. That is why they demand the impossible of each other. That is why they expect to be all-in-all to each other. That is why the wife expects to take the place of her husband of his mother and father and sisters and brothers and all of his old friends and acquaintances, and to furnish his every amusement and interest in life. The husband expects the same thing of his wife, and it simply can't be done. We all have a thousand needs and it takes a thousand different people with different characteristics to supply them.

The man and woman who love intelligently know this. They know that there are many varieties of affection and that one does not interfere with the other. They know that the love that we give our parents and our families and that which we give our mates are not the same kind of affection. They know that a man can admire a pretty girl and still think his wife the greatest woman in the world. They know that a woman can enjoy an evening spent with a playboy and then come home and get down on her knees and thank God for her good prosaic husband. People who love intelligently do not make the mistake of thinking that love is some mysteriously indestructible thing that nothing they can do will hurt, and that once a man or woman care for you they are bound to go on adoring you to the end of the chapter because they can't help themselves. Far from it.

Those who love wisely know that if you keep love alive you have to cherish it. They know that if you neglect it, it will inevitably die. They know that it can be choked to death for lack of liberty. That it can be crushed by tyranny. That it can be worn out by nagging and that it withers under perpetual fault-finding.

Sensible love is what we should pray God for, instead of wasting our prayers in asking for "mad, wild, passionate, romantic love."

Would Send Military Aid to Europe

Washington, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Senator Gualey (E-S) said this country must supplement its economic aid to Western Europe with military assistance "as much as we can." He also expressed hope for a friendly American attitude toward Spain.

The chairman of the Senate Armed Services committee, just back from a tour of 18 countries in the Middle East and in Europe, told a news conference yesterday he strongly favors a military alliance of all countries opposed to Communism.

He said he would favor the inclusion of Spain in such an alliance because Spain has been fighting Communism since 1936. A Western European alliance already has been formed by Great Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg, with British Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery heading the combined general staff.

Gualey said he does not know whether further study that form military aid to the non-Communist countries should take, but that he believes this government still has

Critical After Falling Four Stories

New Orleans, Oct. 6.—(AP)—War veteran Horace G. Gurley, former Memphis, Tenn., taxicab driver, lay in a serious condition at Charity hospital after surviving a four-story plunge from a downtown office building.

Policeman Bart Barrere said Gurley landed on a second-floor skylight yesterday afternoon shortly after he went into a sixth-floor rest room.

Barrere said Mrs. Phyllis Silb, executive secretary of the Travelers' aid society, told him Gurley passed up and down the corridor "in a nervous state" outside her office before he was found on the skylight.

She explained he had appealed to Travelers' Aid for transportation to Memphis where he wanted to enter a hospital.

Enough war surplus material to be of considerable benefit.

In reply to a question, he said he thinks this country might well cut down slightly on the amount of economic aid it gives to Europe in order to extend military help.

He implied that this country should pledge use of armed force, if necessary, in the event of an attack on any of the Western European countries. It is "perfectly clear," what our course should be, he said.

Gualey said he plans to carry to the state department, the defense department and other government officials his recommendations for immediate recognition of Spain and aid for the western military alliance.

He pinned his hopes for a friendly attitude toward Spain on a Republican election victory, but said he does not know Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's views on the subject.

Cotton Crop Harvest Favored by Weather

Little Rock, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Weather conditions the past week have favored Arkansas cotton crop harvest into full swing.

However, the weekly weather and Crop Bulletin said today rains delayed cotton picking in some East Central and Northeastern areas.

Rice harvesting has been completed on a few farms with the crop elsewhere being gathered as rapidly as it matures, the report said.

Lewis Asks Union Dues Boost

Cincinnati, Oct. 6.—(AP)—John L. Lewis recommended to the United Mine Workers convention today that union dues be boosted to $4.00 a month.

Monthly dues now average $2.00 of which the international gets 90 cents.

The proposal was referred to a committee studying constitutional changes.

Another change proposed would increase the initiation fee for new members from $10 to $50.

Lewis also recommended that union members who are receiving $100 a month pensions or are on distress rolls pay $1 a month. They now are exempt from dues collections.

He also proposed that payments by members to local union or district death benefit or burial funds be needed as soon as possible.

The $1 monthly dues would be divided this way:

One dollar to the local union, one dollar to the district organization and two dollars to the international union.

Lewis and fellow officers of the United Mine Workers earlier hailed the miners' new pension contract as the major union achievement of their generation.

over the state and observance of Reading's 200th anniversary. Mr. Truman was made an honorary member of the Rainbow Fire Company number one.

He called for the election of Democratic candidates to help "eradicate some of the terrible things that awful 80th Congress did to us."

The trail ahead led through Eastern Pennsylvania to Jersey City, N. J., where he makes his second major address of a three-day campaign tour some time after 8:30 o'clock (est) tonight in the Lincoln high school auditorium.

Aides said Mr. Truman will talk from notes, rather than a prepared address. And they said the president will reiterate his claim that the Republicans are to blame for high prices, the housing shortage and other domestic problems.

He appealed for the votes of Pennsylvania workers last night. To a cheering crowd in Philadelphia's convention hall he said the Republican candidates were handing the people "company union" promises and practicing political "quackery."

The address, before an audience of 1,000, climaxed an active day. Persons said the crowd at the hall brought to 300,000 the number of persons who greeted the president at Philadelphia and nearby Camden, N. J., where he talked briefly in the afternoon.

The president said "nothing could be further from the truth" than Republican claims "their kind of unity would strengthen our voice in world affairs."

"Peace, my friends," he declared, "is the goal of my public life. I'd rather have peace in the world than be president of the extension of the ICC order, saying they were negotiating for sale of 65 miles between Helena and Cotton Plant, Ark., to C. W. Ferguson, Star City, Ark., and for sale of certain Harrison properties to a group seeking to connect that city with the Missouri Pacific railroad."

Governor Loney was asked to call a special session of the legislature to authorize state purchase of the line to save it from abandonment. He has announced that a poll of legislators shows a majority of them opposed to the proposal.

Promoters of the effort to save the system are hopeful, but apparently had no definite plans to save the line from becoming a link—legally—at midnight tonight.

ade of Berlin menaces world peace. A British source said last night representatives of the three Western powers met informally and considered the first steps of framing a proposal that the security council call on Russia to lift the blockade.

It was said today that no resolution has been drawn up by any delegate thus far. In fact, one source said, the United States feels it is too early to present the council with a proposal for a demand for action. The Americans were said to feel they must hear first from other council members. And that the resolution should come from one of the neutrals.

The council is expected to meet again Saturday or Monday to continue the debate on Berlin. The security council members not involved in Berlin studied the western charges. They had no Russian counter-claims to study.

However, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky said yesterday, carrying out his avowed intention not to take part in the Berlin discussion.

Lifting of the blockade is the price the Western powers will accept for agreeing to a four-power foreign ministers' conference on the Berlin and general German questions. The Russians consistently have maintained that the Berlin case is one for the Big Four to discuss, and not for the United Nations.

Vishinsky also has contended that, actually, no blockade exists in Berlin. All three nations told the council yesterday they will be willing to meet with the foreign ministers' council when the blockade is raised.

The U. S. deputy delegate, Dr. Philip C. Jessup, told the council, however, that the United States will resist firmly Russian threats of force aimed at compelling the Americans to abandon Berlin to Red rule.

Meanwhile, a Moscow radio commentator accused the Western powers of pursuing a "policy of deliberately ignoring the foreign ministers' council in solving various international problems."

V. Luchsky, in a broadcast heard in London early today, said "they prefer to circumvent the council x x x by the so-called Berlin question, which they themselves have artificially created."

Preparing for a vote in the general assembly's political committee on the control of atomic energy, representatives of the United States, Britain and France sought to write a resolution that they hope the 50-nation committee will accept.

The committee finished debate yesterday on a report from a majority group on the U. N. Atomic Energy Commission that backed American proposals for an international atomic control authority which would have the right to cut veto of any nation, to make inspections in all countries. The Russians have opposed this, urging, instead, two simultaneous treaties: one outlawing atomic weapons and the other setting up a control body within the security council and subject to veto by the five big powers.

panion and I cried, explaining that we had received our appointments and had been told to come in the morning for traveling funds. The old man shook his head, waved his arm in the direction in which all the big shots were escaping, and took pity upon us two women. He gave us all he could spare, 150 rubles each, with the advice: "Go as far as you can with this."

During the next few days, while I was trying to locate a train bound for Gorki, the center of Moscow took on the aspect of a deserted city, except for marching army units. Occasionally one heard the explosion of a bomb or the roar of a collapsing structure. On the highways leading out of the city ruthless measures were being taken to stop in their track booters who were fleeing with caravans of goods. The booty would be taken away and the plunderers shut on the spot.

To add to the nightmare, barricades were being thrown up on the main arteries in the outlying United States. I wish for peace, I work for peace. And I pray for peace continually.

Mr. Truman was introduced by Democratic Senator Francis Myers of Pennsylvania, who described the Republican presidential nominee as "the medicine man" from Albany who guarantees to cure any illness with "pink pills" and "brown medicine."

The president took up the theme. He said the Republican party wants to roll all the "plain people" together "the big company nation" and run it "for the benefit of the national association of manufacturers."

"They have all their promises wrapped up in a package called 'unity' which they guarantee to cure more ills than any patent medicine you ever saw," Mr. Truman continued.

Names New Dean of Medical School

Little Rock, Oct. 7 — (AP) — Dr. Joseph T. Roberts has been named as dean of the University of Arkansas Medical School and replaced by Dr. William C. Langston as acting dean.

The change was announced last night by Dr. Lewis W. Jones, university president, only a few hours after he had disclosed that the controversial increase in student fees would be partly rescinded.

Dr. Jones said Dr. Roberts had been relieved of his duties as dean "at his request" and was assigned as professor of medicine until Dec. 30 when his appointment to the faculty expires.

Dr. Langston, head of the department of anatomy and assistant dean, has been a member of the medical school faculty since 1930. A committee of three members of the university board of trustees, which Tuesday heard protests of students over the fee increase, recommended that they be cut back to $375 annually, the university president said.

At the same time, he served notice that the legislature would be asked to appropriate more funds for the medical school. The fee controversy arose when the university board recently increased all resident student fees to $500 annually and non-resident fees to $750. Freshmen fees previously had been fixed at $500 but fees for sophomores had been $375, juniors and seniors $275 and non-residents $500.

districts through which the Germans were expected to advance upon the city. Barrels, overturned streetcars, furniture, all kinds of wreckage were piled into these hasty and primitive defenses.

On October 20 when old-timer residents were confined to their homes as good as taken by the Germans, I got close enough to a train scheduled to leave for Gorki, and was swept onto its platform by a surge of a frenzied mob. It was a human ant with people clinging to the roofs and windows of the cars. Wedged in the passageway between two end platforms, I somehow managed to reach Gorki, some 300 miles away.

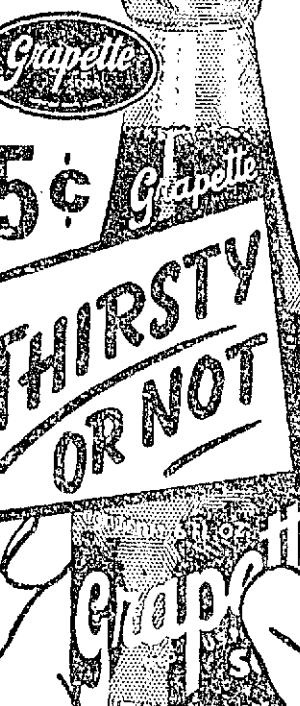

My sister, who met me upon my arrival with the announcement that Olga had already been there looking for me.

Two Killed, 12 Injured in Train Wreck

Pittsburgh, Oct. 7 — (AP) — A hand-dredged workmen and four wrecked trains today cleared away wreckage in suburban Bellevue where a huge boulder knocked a fast Pennsylvania railroad train from the tracks, killing two and injuring 12.

Killed were Engineer J. G. Lighthorn and Fireman R. G. Romble, both of Crestline, O. Two of the four main tracks were opened and passenger trains were able to go through at a snail's pace.

In total offense, rushing and passing, Scott has 443 yards in 46 plays. Leading him are Stan Heath of Nevada with 636 yards in 73 plays and Lindy Berry of Texas Christian with 496 in 107 plays.

Baseball World Uselessly Argues Pickoff Play

By JACK HAN

Boston, Oct. 7 — (AP) — The Boston Braves go after their second straight World Series victory today with Lefty Warren Spain opposing Cleveland's Bob Lemon while the baseball world still debates the disputed play to win No. 1.

Arguments sprouted up all over town last night after publication of Associated Press pictures of the vital play of the opener — an attempt by Bobby Feller to pick off runner Phil Masi off second base in the eighth inning of a 9-0 game.

Many neutral observers insisted the pictures showed that Manager Lou Boudreau of the Indians had tagged Masi a foot off the bag.

Others were unconvinced. Of course there will be no official protest by anybody connected with the Cleveland club. It's purely a matter of the judgment of an umpire whose word is final in baseball.

Masi had just entered the scoreless ball game as a runner for Bill Salkeld who had worked Feller for a walk to open the last of the eighth. Mike McCormick did the expected by bunting Masi to second with a sacrifice.

With first base open, Boudreau decided to intentionally pass Eddie Stanky still handicapped by the ankle he broke in July. Sibby Sisti was sent in by Manager Billy Southworth to run for the still limping Stanky.

Salkeld fled out. Then they tried the Boudreau feint and quick Feller twist, trying to catch Masi napping. Some think they succeeded. Others agree with Umpire Bill Stewart.

Tommy Holmes, a lefthanded batter sliced an outside fast ball past third base to left field, scoring Masi.

That tells the story of the scoring but it's only a small part of the great pitching duel between two of baseball's greatest modern right-handers, Feller and the Braves' Johnny Sain.

Feller passed only three but was one fatal.

Sain had perfect control, issuing no walks. His four-hit performance was a masterpiece.

On what Sain showed the powerful Indians, the pre-Series odds decided to reshuffle. The Tribe now is to see Sain once more and may be twice.

The new odds show Cleveland still favored to win the Series but at 7 to 10 instead of the 5 to 11 or 5 to 12 existing before the opener. Today's game is about even money in man to man betting.

If Spain is able to tame the Indians, there will be a mad rush to hop on the Braves' band wagon. He is the No. 2 man of Southworth's pitching duo although his 15-12 record for the year was a bit below expectations.

Lemon, a midget pitcher on June 30, is Boudreau's choice to lead even before the Indians return home. Gene Bearden, hero of Monday's play victory, already has been named to work Friday's first game at Cleveland.

Both clubs will come to the park with their bags packed for they leave immediately after the game to make the third game at Cleveland tomorrow afternoon. There are no off days in the Series schedule, barring rain.

Probable lineups for the second World Series game today:

Cleveland: Mitchell, cf; Clark, rf; Boudreau, ss; Gordon, 2b; Kettner, 3b; Delany, c; Robinson, lb; Heggen, c; Lemon, p.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr.

Boston, Oct. 7 — (AP) — The contrary air currents that drift across Braves field from the Charles River dictated the Indians' strategy for their opening World Series game. Their probable lineup will be Cleveland weather man will be more cooperative.

The gag of the day was that the weather man, who foresaw a northeaster and rain, was the first expert to be wrong about this series.

Even before the game white-thatcher Bill McKeebue was watching the flags on the grandstand and talking about the effect of the breezes on long hits.

There won't be any home runs against that wind, said Bill. "And furthermore I'll bet you most of the homers in this part are hit at night because of the weather conditions."

Afterward called for him to pitch outside to the Braves' left-hand batters just to make sure none of them would be hitting over the right field barrier any day.

It was ironic that Tommy Holmes, a southpaw swinger who slices at hits down the left field line, did just that to beat Bobby.

When Meyer Was Mired One New York writer nominates Billy Meyer, the Pirates manager, as the most courageous guy in baseball.

Here's why: a few years ago Meyer was managing the Yankees' Kansas City farm Larry MacPhail ousted Joe McCarthy as mgt. of the Yanks.

McCarthy then called a meeting of the head men of the entire chain in the course of events offered Billy the top managing job.

Meyer declined because he didn't think his health was good enough. "Then," asked MacPhail, "What in your opinion is the best manager available?"

Meyer calmly replied: "Joe McCarthy."

Keeping the Wig Warm When Lou Boudreau whiffed in the fourth inning yesterday, it was only the tenth time he had struck out this season.

And Lou is the kind of a guy who remembers such figures. Boudreau already is concerned about his club's arrival in Cleveland tomorrow.

Of course there will be no official protest by anybody connected with the Cleveland club. It's purely a matter of the judgment of an umpire whose word is final in baseball.

Coaches Seeking to Fill Guard Position

Although Coach Nolan Tollett could not be reached in time for publication today it is likely he is frantically seeking someone to fill the choice of Sam Westbrook, Captain and guard of the Bobcat squad, who is out with an injury.

Reports from the practice session yesterday indicate the Cat members are trying out James Russell, end, at that slot and a couple of other hopefuls.

The Bobcats indicated yesterday they would need to be on their toes Friday night when they entertain Coach Jim Dildy's Malvern boys who hold three shutout victories over Dixie's victory and Morrill Westbrook's loss is a blow to the Bobcat line.

Besides leading the team as Captain, Sam is one of the best guards in the state. Physicians indicated yesterday he should not play for at least two more games and not then if more trouble appears.

Hope showed up well in the Jonesboro game last weekend and looked considerably better in the blocking department. Friday night's game should be close and a large crowd is expected.

Little Rock, Oct. 7 — (AP) — You may have a pretty fair idea after tomorrow night which high school football team is the strongest in Arkansas.

At least you'll be able to narrow down the selection to three or four teams.

The game likely to tell the most will be a non-division battle between Blytheville, the class Double-A team which ended Little Rock's three-year winning streak a week ago, and Pine Bluff, only undefeated, untied team in the Big Six (Triple-A) division.

The Chicks, who have won all their games on the field but had to forfeit two because they used an ineligible player and the Zebras will square off at Pine Bluff.

Last week the Zebras bumped off a strong Fort Smith aggregation, which previously had shaped up as the greatest threat to Little Rock in the Big Six.

If Blytheville can add Pine Bluff to its list of victims, the Chicks' most serious challenge for state grid honors will be within their own classification, mostly Hope. The Zebras will appear without need if they win.

The outcome of this game also will give a line on how Pine Bluff and Little Rock compare for their meeting later in the season.

What part Fayetteville's Bulldogs, another undefeated, untied powerhouse, are to play in the Double-A bracket may be determined when they play Fort Smith at Fort Smith. The game won't count in any standings but, considering Fort Bluff's victory over Fort Smith and the outcome of the Zebras-Chick tilt, it may be possible to compare Fayetteville with Blytheville, he two could meet in the Double-A playoffs.

These fixtures between powers of different classifications won't monopolize the spotlight of the weekend's program, however. Thirty-nine games which will count in the Big Six, Double-A, Class A and Class B division standings also are on the docket.

In the Big Six, Little Rock's Tigers and the North Little Rock Wildcats will begin their title drives. The Tigers will play at Hot Springs, while the Wildcats will be at home on the northside to entertain El Dorado.

Like their cross-river rivals, the Wildcats are smarting from their first defeat of the year — also administered by a lower class Double-A team. They were spilled last week by Camden.

El Dorado scored its first victory of the campaign by triumphing Hot Springs last week.

Leading Double-A clashes tomorrow night include Springdale at Van Buren in District One and Texarkana at Camden in District Seven.

Other division and non-division struggles include Bankley at Jonesboro, Booneville at Russellville, Subiaco at Paragould, Conway at Little Rock Catholic 5-A, Walvern at Hope, Stuttgart at Fort Smith, Queen at North Little Rock and Magnolia at Prescott 7-A.

Teachers' Back Named Player of the Week

Little Rock, Oct. 7 — (AP) — John Komegay, Arkansas State Teachers College football back who was overshadowed last season by running mate Rex Pearce, was named today as the "star of the week" in the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference.

With all-star Pearce seeing limited action because of a summer knee operation, Komegay took charge of teachers' attack in Rock last week.

Because of his performance in that game, the Clarendon speedster received the most votes in the Associated Press' weekly poll of AIC coaches.

The scoring summary showed Komegay plunged over the goal line once and passed for another Bear touchdown. It also was his passing and running which started the Bears to victory after Ouachita had fumbled first.

Navy's Super Carrier Open to Public

Washington, Oct. 6 (UP)—Navy showed the public today what its 63,000-ton super aircraft carrier will look like, revealing that it will be big enough to catapult four planes aloft at the same time.

Publication of new details about the $124,000,000 warship — "longest in the world" — was accompanied by release of an artist's drawing that shows it to be a veritable seagoing airfield, uninterrupted by any superstructure. It should be able to carry navy planes of "well over 100,000 pounds" when they are available, the announcement said. This means B-29 size or better, B-29's can carry atomic bombs.

The artist's conception displayed a sleek flat-top with overall length of 1,090 feet, more than one-fifth of a mile, and an above-the-water-line width of 190 feet which hinged structures will increase to 236 feet.

Its beam makes the vessel designated the CVA-58, "one of several" U. S. warships that cannot pass through the Panama Canal, the navy said.

The navy has not officially confirmed the fact, but it is known to have asked aircraft manufacturers for bids on construction of a 50-ton jet bomber with speed above 500 miles per hour. This airplane, obviously in the atom-bomb carrying class, is presumed to be for the supercarrier.

Today's announcement said the 33-knot flush-deck vessel will take about four years to build unless the time is cut by assignment of higher priority. Newport News (Va.) Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Corp. is scheduled to lay the keel this year or early in 1949, the navy said.

The ship's four catapults will be located one on either side for launching about midway off the deck of the sides, and two on the bow. Elevators to lift planes from the hangar to the flight deck will be located at the sides and aft. Flag and ship bridges will be telescopic so that the traditional "island" superstructure can be eliminated. Radar for navigation

Trustees to Consider Tuition Plan

Little Rock, Oct. 6 (AP)—Whether the University of Arkansas board of trustees will reconsider its action in raising tuition for students at the medical school here was uncertain today.

Three members of the board heard the increases proposed—and in fewer instances, defended—at an open meeting at the school amphitheater yesterday afternoon.

The next regular meeting of the full board is scheduled for Nov. 13 but Board Chairman Robert L. Thomas said it was possible there might be a meeting before then. He did not indicate if the increased tuition charges would be taken up again.

Approximately a dozen medical school students joined Dr. Joseph T. Roberts, dean of the school, in asking that fees be returned to former levels.

The students told the board that the amount realized by increasing the tuition wouldn't mean a great deal in the overall picture of school operation "but that $225 a year means a whole lot to us."

Depending on the class, some fees were raised from $275 and others from $375 at beginning of the present semester. All fees now are fixed at one level of $500 annually.

Purpose of the raise, Thomas declared, was to provide additional operating funds in view of rising education costs.

This was protested by the students who suggested that the board use monies from a $307,000 medical school reserve fund to meet operating deficits and ask for aid from the 1949 general assembly.

After the meeting Dr. Roberts denied to newsmen published reports that he was resigning his position because of attractive offers from other institutions.

Dean Roberts said the first he had heard about other offers was from newspaper accounts and added "I was as much surprised (by the alleged offers) as I was by the increased tuition." He said he was not consulted in the tuition raises.

Dr. Euclid Smith of Hot Springs member of the board of trustees, reported last week that Dr. Roberts would leave his post to accept another offer.

Dr. Smith declined to comment last night.

And Dr. Roberts did not say specifically whether he expected to leave the school.

Hot Springs, Oct. 6 (AP)—Mayor Earl T. Ricks isn't able to promise rain but he has done something to help relieve the present water shortage in this resort city.

The mayor made a quick plane trip to Chattanooga, Tenn., yesterday to pick up a pump for boosting water from Lake Hamilton into the Hot Springs city reservoir.

Ricks, who piloted an Arkansas National Guard plane, returned here last night and reported that the pump would be in action sometime today.

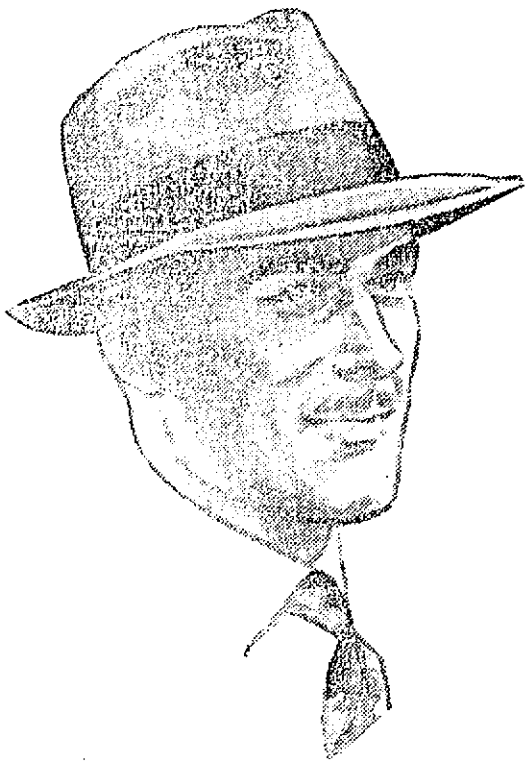

Some very lengthy Australian cardworms lay eggs as big as olives.

and fire control makes this possible, the navy said.
